- Contaminated land audits, with two WA accredited Auditors
- Contaminated land site characterisation and remediation
- Corporate social responsibility and sustainability
- Environmental auditing and compliance
- Environmental, health and safety due diligence
- Environmental, social and economic impact assessment, planning & approvals
- Environmental management systems
- Risk assessment and risk management

CONTAMINATED LAND AUDITS EXPERTISE

Mandatory contaminated land audits are required in WA by the Contaminated Sites Act (2003), for example to clear planning conditions.

Non-mandatory audits can also be conducted, for example to help a seller, buyer or developer determine what investigation or remediation is necessary to render a parcel suitable for specific land uses, or to determine the suitability of a remediation strategy or a long-term management plan.

ENVIRON is able to offer the services of two auditors, Graeme Nyland and Mike Hayter, who are accredited by the WA Department of Environment. The Auditors can be contacted at:

Graeme Nyland (gnyland@environcorp.com.au)

Mike Hayter (mhayter@environcorp.com.au)
